Once there was a girl,
but only sweets.
Chocolates, toffees, lollipops, cupcakes and all other sugary treats

who ate nothing else

But among all the sweets, her most favourite was the doughnut.

Cream-filled,
glazed,
cinnamon,
twisted and
also the kreme
pie hazelnut

So when she turned four can you guess what she wished for?

Avanti Kshirsagar
II D

Yes! A huge doughnut cake, bought from across the bakery store.

As she sat down to gobble the whole of the
cake,

Her mother
admonished
her saying
"Don't eat
so much sugar
or else you
will end up with a belly ache!"

She paid no heed to her mother's advice, and went on to eat the whole cake, she ate and ate and surely she suffered a terrible stomach-ache.

She cried and cried as she suffered through the unbearable pain, her mother consoled her saying, "I know a way by which this can be contained"

Her mother cooked up a healthy soup with a peppermint garnish.

and in no time, did
the stomach-ache
vanish.

The girl learnt
her lesson and made a commitment

surely enough, she will eat all her veggies from now on Oh! wasn't that brilliant?
